

Diagnosing the Light Fantastic by Kevin Core

After being an intuitive healer for 9 years, first embracing Spiritual Healing and then Angelic Healing, I underwent an initiation through the Archangel Metatron into a system of healing that Metatron called Angelic Reiki. Through the winter of 2002 and spring of 2003, a system of healing was passed to me, which I am now teaching throughout the world.

During this period of initiation I was approached by two friends who said they had been guided to give me Reiki Master Initiations in both the Usui and the Shamballa traditions. After these initiations I was given the Angelic Reiki system. Its basis and its means of transmission are through the traditional symbols of Reiki. Unlike an attunement in traditional Reiki, these symbols are given to the student by an angel who opens up a space behind each student and anchors in the symbols in the traditional chakras, whilst the Reiki Master holds the space.

The Archangel Metatron and the Sarim, the Chief Celestial Archangelic Princes also give an attunement into the Angelic Vibration. Indeed the whole period of an Angelic Reiki Workshop is used by the angels to change the molecular and DNA structure of the student so they become more attuned to the angelic vibration and become perfect channels for this energy.

When the traditional Reiki system was given to mankind at the time of Atlantis, it was intended to align mankind with his Divine Nature, his Divine Inheritance. All illness comes from a disconnection from the Divine. To be Divine is to be in perfection. Illness comes from a belief that all is not perfect, that there is imbalance, that there is dis-ease. One cannot be ill and also know that one is Divine.

As man descended into materialism and lost the connection to the Divine, after the fall of Atlantis, the imprint of the Divine was also disconnected from the Reiki symbols. They still had power but their ability to retune a person their Divine Nature was lost. The time has come to re-establish that connection and this is now done through the symbols given in Angelic Reiki.

There have now been a number of Angelic Reiki Masters in this system practising throughout the world and much has been revealed to us about the process of Ascension and its effect on the bodies of humanity. I would like to now share this information with you.

We are all aware that the vibration of the planet, and all kingdoms on it, is changing. This is causing cellular changes, the activation of extra strands of DNA and the activation of our energy or Lightbodies. As our vibrations raise and our Lightbodies activate, it causes a descension of our Soul energy, which anchors into our physical bodies through the Thymus Gland. The physical effect of this is heart palpitation or arrhythmia. The heart beats very fast and irregular and causes fears about heart attacks etc to arise. This is a challenge to our own views of mortality and the programming of fear of death comes to the fore. This occurs because the heart beats to the rhythm of the Universe on the physical/etheric plane. With the descension of Soul energy this rhythm is raised to Solar and Galactic level. As the heart adjusts to this new rhythm you get the palpitations coming in periodically. I myself have had this occur over the last nine years, and I have to admit that I did go to the Emergency Room or Outpatient Department once. While I was waiting for attention, however, I was assured all was well by my guides and I left without seeing a doctor.

I came across a student in Greece who had suffered from this condition a number of years ago and went to the doctor. They performed many tests and found nothing wrong. They operated however and she now has a pacemaker and has to take daily medication. I am assured by the Angelics that this condition is perfectly normal in Ascension and those of us who are going through this should not panic and know all is well.

This activation through the Thymus brings us to the subject of vaccinations. Most Homeopaths will agree that vaccinations can close down the Thymus Gland. As I have shown, the Thymus is a major vehicle for the Ascension activations. In fact, the whole of the Endocrine System undergoes massive change during Ascension. It does not matter when we received vaccinations. If we had to undergo a vaccination in the past it will affect how you integrate the energies of Ascension. As we begin to clear past life karma, it is done in a major way through the thymus. It is our link with Soul energy through the thymus that allows us to raise our consciousness to a high enough level to look back and clear our karma. As awareness of how vaccinations can affect us in a negative way grows, people are beginning to make an informed choice. For those of us who have had vaccinations, healing by the angels can be done to clear the negative effects caused. The condition known as Vaccinosis Syndrome is caused by the downpouring of Soul Energy and the resistance of a Thymus damaged by vaccination. This affects the whole of the Endocrine System and leads to symptoms resembling Glandular Fever. One of the symptoms of Vaccinosis is extreme tiredness.

Many lightworkers know what it feels like to get suddenly very tired for no apparent reason. There are many varied reasons for this apart from the reason above, all to do with the Ascension process. As the cells in the body change and begin to metabolise Light as a food source, the increased intake of energy into a cell causes it to release stored trauma and karmic memories. The body is flushed with an excess of energy bringing tiredness, aching joints, sore throats, viral symptoms, nausea and diarrhoea. This is part of the Lightbody process activated on the whole planet as early as 1988. The condition known as ME has a direct correlation with this process. Again, the healing given now through Angelic Reiki and other energy healing systems is available to bring balance to the these effects caused by the Ascension process.

We have also found that there are certain vitamin deficiencies that need to be addressed as we change our metabolism from a carbon base to a silicon base. These changes occur through the spleen, which is the major physical organ in the body for passing prana from the etheric body into the physical. All lightworkers on the planet could be as much as 76% deficient in Phosphoric Acid, which aids the changes occurring to DNA. Also the Vitamin B Complex is needed to support the changes to the Endocrine System. The Vitamin B Complex and Phosphoric Acid can be taken as a supplement and the New Era Tissue Salts remedies are very good for restoring balance.

We have come across cases again, of lightworkers consulting the medical profession to combat tiredness. The result is that Glandular Fever is often diagnosed. This is supported from the doctor's point of view by enlarged glands in the neck. Again, I can assure all readers that this is physical development due to Ascension. I started to feel an aching on both sides of my neck earlier this year. This developed into a raised lump, about 2cm long, on my already enlarged neck glands. The programming of mortality raised its head but having resisted this I have now dropped into another level of raised awareness and inner communication, supported by seeming extensions to the Human Endocrine System. If I had subjected myself to medical examination the prescribed treatment may have been a sharp knife.

Around this time I consulted Edwin Courtenay on this matter and he channelled from the angels that these physical changes were normal and that I should not subject myself to medical examination, as the results would be contrary to that of the medical equivalent of a normal person. I feel this advice should be taken to heart by all of us undergoing these changes.

All of us have been aware that major changes to the human physiognomy were to take place. Now those changes are here we should not be afraid but in the wonder at what is occurring.

I would now like to touch on the last part of what has been brought to us, which in a way is the most important. There is an awareness, among spirit-minded people in the world, that special children are now being born. These have been termed Indigo, Crystal or Rainbow children. Indeed this is the case. Many souls who inhabit the Galactic Races are now incarnating on the planet to help raise the vibration in consciousness by contributing to the collective human consciousness vibration. Connections are now being re-established with certain Galactic Races, with whom humanity has bonded before, through the merging of these races into the genetic makeup of Humanity at consciousness level.

There are also many Angelic Incarnations occurring as the Angelic Kingdom and that of Humanity move closer together. This has been pre-ordained to create a merging of the two Kingdoms for a distant time in the future when Angels and Humans will move into a period of Stellar co-Creation.

We have asked and received the information that about 20% of all children born today are of these lines.

These Star Children generally tend to choose parents where one or both are on the spiritual path, or where a close relative, who is on the path, will undertake the guidance of that child in the early years. These children are coming into incarnation through the normal birthing process or through that method which has been described elsewhere as 'walk-ins'.

There are certain signs in a pregnancy, which may indicate if the child being carried is Star Child. The most obvious is that the feelings of sickness and discomfort do not dissipate after the first six weeks but continue for as long as six months. There may be small discharges of blood giving rise to the fear that a miscarriage may be occurring. The mother may be certain that a communication is occurring between her and the child in her womb, and she may become very aware with her psychic perception increasing. She may also feel that she has 'separated' in some way from everybody else including her partner and be very much in the wonder of the pregnancy to a greater and deeper level than usual.

What occurs in the case of an angelic incarnation, but not to the same degree in a galactic incarnation, is that the vibration of the consciousness coming in is of a higher vibration than that of a human consciousness. The angelic and human vibrations are not the same and are far removed from one another. The incarnating soul finds it difficult to match the patterning prepared as a human consciousness template to that of the angelic. A great deal of adjustment needs to be made to merge to two consciousness patterns to create a homogenous whole. This has an effect on the endocrine system of the mother and of the newly forming foetus, which causes the symptoms described above. I have been called as an Angelic Reiki Healer to mothers who are going through this type of pregnancy. The crucial time is the first three months. A healing is needed at least once a month whereby the healer is used as a channel in the physical, to allow the delicate adjustments in the energybody of the mother and foetus to be made. It is during this time that the mother may experience lower abdominal pain and some bleeding. The second period of three months forming the six is not so crucial but healing does need to be given to complete the anchoring of the consciousness into the vehicle prepared for it. From six months onwards all should be well with a healing just before the birth advisable. The emphasis on this healing is to transmit to the incoming consciousness the continued connection to the Angelic Collective.

Angels are an extension of the Divine Mind. They are a projection of the Divine seeking to anchor into a consciousness grid that has been disconnected from this vibration. It is the integration of this powerful divine consciousness vibration into a vehicle that is of a lower order that can cause problems. It is therefore advised that all mothers who feel they are carrying a Star Child seek out an Angelic Healer or an energy healer who works at Galactic Level.

Women are taking the decision to have children at a later age and are using the procedure of Amniocentesis to check if the chromosomes of the foetus are normal. We would again caution mothers as to the problems of this in relation to the above. The children being born at this time are now coming in with extra strands of DNA activated and extra chromosomes. The medical profession in the minority is aware of this situation but not the majority. The reasons for this can be intuited by some but are too complex to be gone into here. A doctor may give an unfavourable diagnosis of this test without passing to the parents the exact readings. The lack of the chromosome, which causes Mongolism, is specific. ANY unnatural readings may cause the physician to give an unfavourable diagnosis. Again, the consultation of an Angelic Healer or energy healer would help to reassure the mother that all was well.

After these children are born they need to be cared for in a specific way. These children regard humanity as the children. I have three children myself, two angelic and one galactic. I can speak from experience when I say that these children resent being treated like children. I have always been guided to treat my children as adults even from the earliest age and have been richly rewarded. The problem, if it is such, comes when they enter the school system of whatever country. They find the subject matter exceedingly tedious and simply become bored. This is often wrongly perceived as confrontational or disruptive by the establishment. In America, this has been diagnosed as Attention Deficiency Syndrome, with mind suppressing drugs being prescribed such as Ritalin. There are many books emerging which gives guidance to parents of such children, one of the best being "The Care of Indigo Children" by Doreen Virtue. These children also suffer from a sense of not belonging and experience deep grief without cause. A consultation with an Angelic Healer will clear this as a connection will be made to the 'home' vibration, and the child will be more content.

Vaccinations for these children should be resisted for the reasons given above.

It must be fully understood that I am not advocating a total boycott of the medical profession. It is of course essential to get a medical diagnosis if there are any physical symptoms that cause concern. To simply ignore the messages that our bodies give us is paramount to burying our heads in the sand. Physical symptoms are our greatest teacher and need to be honoured. We are in a time where we are embracing our own power and autonomy based on informed choice. It is a fact that current medical thought does not accept the latest scientific research (see www.whatthebleep.com), also practitioners in the medical system feel they need to be seen doing something, even if they are unsure of the cause of a condition. Unfortunately, this something can be the prescription of abrasive drugs or invasive surgery. This where each individual has to make an informed choice, based on their own truth and discernment.

What I have tried to show in this brief dialogue is how, through the wondrous process of Ascension, we are all changing. Whether we are aware of it or not, the processes described above are occurring and have passed the point of no return.

Many of us are here, in this incarnation, to support this process. We are in the culmination of many lifetimes on this planet where we anchored energy and teaching into Humanity to support us in this work, in this lifetime. As more and more emphasis is now being directed into recognising that ALL is energy, both in the scientific and medical communities, we as Masters of Energy are now being called upon to anchor these new healing modalities, which are coming in to support these changes. Although Angelic Reiki is just one of many of these modalities, it is the one chosen to anchor the purest Divine and Angelic vibration at this time.
